

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores.

TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does.

TIZ cleans every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses.

You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

THE EVENING BANNER

Per year $8.00
Per month .75

Entered at the Post-office, Bennington, Vt., Dec. 11, 1905, as second class mail matter

FRANK E. HOWE, Editor and Pub'r.

The Banner today prints an illustrated page article relative to Yellowstone park. This article is furnished in plate matter free of charge to any newspaper that will take it. There is a concealed reason why the promoters of it desire to have the article printed. Readers may determine this question for themselves. Leaving this question aside, however, the article seems interesting and instructive enough to deserve reading.

The will of the late William Kelsey just probated at Windsor is interesting as an instance of the rapidly disappearing religious prejudice of former days. Mr. Kelsey leaves his money for an old ladies home but provides that no Roman Catholic or foreign born woman may be admitted. We never heard of Mr. Kelsey before but the name dates back to the early history of New England and we have no doubt that he may have been a very estimable old gentleman who through the force of environment and early training inherited so much of that old Puritan prejudice that he made himself believe that God's elect include only those who worship according to John Calvin and Jonathan Edwards. Nobody will have any feeling toward the old gentleman. Heaven knows there are enough needy ones even if he had confined the benefits of his fortune to cross-eyed Ethiopians and the whole matter is interesting only as calling to mind the fact that the old time wars of Christian sects in about over with. Calvinism has served a great purpose in the development of mankind and the Roman Catholic church is strong-

Wants Abuses Corrected

Vermont is not standing still—she is either retrogressing or progressing.

Voters, let us face the condition like men—men with iron in our blood. There are things to be done. Why put off the day? Convene the legislature and do them.

First—Repeal the law of 1908—allowing tubercular infected cattle to be sold for food. The law making this disgusting and horrible condition legal is worded in a manner to disguise its sickening possibilities. In the words of L. B. Johnson, editor of the Randolph Herald and News, "it was a skillful imposition on the legislature that passed it." Dr. Holton of the State Board of Health doesn't approve of it. Gov. John A. Mead doesn't approve of it. Will the voters of Vermont feed their families on tubercular infected carcasses for 18 months while we wait for the legislature? Let us convene the legislature and repeal it at once.

Second—And while the legislature is convened let us pass a tax law in the interest of Vermont soil, as follows: Exempt from taxation all mortgages secured on property located within the borders of Vermont—either real or personal—providing, that the mortgage bears interest of 5 per cent or less. This will solve the problem of double taxation and make Vermont soil what it has a right to be—a good investment. New Hampshire has just passed such a law.

Third—And also, while the legislature is convened, pass a law opening the way for the Boston and Maine railroad to build its South Vernon-Brattleboro extension on the Vermont side of the Connecticut river. Why drive all progress across our boundaries?

Here are three things that need to be done now! Shall we wait 18 months? Remember Vermont is not standing still. She is progressing or retrogressing. The way to progress is to act. The way to retrogress is to wait. Which shall we do?—Brandon Union.

"Decadent" Massachusetts

It will be remembered that a goodly share of the strictures upon Vermont, referring to her "decadent" condition based upon the recent census figures, have emanated from Boston and various papers of that city have been calling upon the Green Mountain state to "wake up" and similar vehement exhortations.

Well what about Massachusetts? Here is something decidedly pertinent from a recent editorial in the Springfield Republican:

"This continued urban concentration suggests continued population decline in the hill towns and the census results bear out the inference. Since 1890 only 24 towns show a population decrease, but since 1900 no less than 124 towns have either been standing still or declining; and 17 of these are found in Berkshire county, 17 in Franklin, 12 in Hampshire and 10 in Hampden—a total of 56 for western Massachusetts, while Worcester county more surprisingly adds 30 to the list. Some of these towns lost heavily. More than half of Wales' population of 773 in 1900 had disappeared by 1910; Tolland lost 34.5 per cent; Washington 26.5; Montgomery 20.5; and so on through a long list. We now for the first time in many years have a town of less than 100 people—New Ashford in Berkshire county, which had a population of 460 at the first Federal census in 1790 and which has now fallen from 107 in 1900 to 92 in 1910. Next to New Ashford stands Mount Washington, in the extreme southwest corner of the state, with a population now of 119 against a maximum of 174 in 1810."

Poor old Massachusetts! These figures are appalling. A state rich in history, the cradle of the Pilgrims and once great in all that makes for progress and advancement, yet these statistics—figures that a Rosier would revel in—show retrogression and decadence that make one shudder.—Enosburg Standard.

Efforts Seldom Rewarded

Sometimes newspapers that use their space and time to boom a town and its interests are appreciated by the townspeople. We saw an exemplification of this in the office of the Sarasota Times this winter. That publication has done much toward booming Sarasota as a winter resort and has been the means of bringing many tourists to that point. This winter the town officials, appreciating the work, went to the office and told them to stock up with type and all the printing of the town would be centered to their office. No prices were asked. The officials said they considered the business interests of the town had been greatly benefited by the paper, and if they could not pay for it in money they could in patronage. The merchants and banks did the same thing. In some of our home towns we are sorry to say, too many are apt to split hairs with the newspaper man, expecting him to boom the town and its interests, and yet when there is an opportunity to reward him with work, to take it somewhere else because the living price is cut. Doubtless this is done thoughtlessly many times, but the newspaper man feels it just the same. Newport Express and Standard.

What Do You Like

About a suit? First you want it easy and comfortable; next stylish to look at; then, last but not least, to stay that way.

Our hobby is clothing, our recreation is in the study of it. We have learned what it is you like and what you dislike and, honestly, we're bound to please you. Sure to satisfy, because we've the make (David Marks & Sons) that the best dealers all over the country are buying.

The great forward stride in ready-to-wear clothing is due almost entirely to the tireless efforts of Mr. Marcus Marks.

They originate styles and ideas that the trade imitate, and there are indeed many good imitations, but why not have the genuine?

The one and only make of clothing we know of ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED.
